Statement Addressing Inventory Exempt from Ad Valorem Taxes

On its 2024 personal property declaration, United Rentals (North America) Inc. is reporting personal property inventory at its business as of the July 1, 2024 lien date. A portion of this inventory was located on-site while other portions were rented to third parties and were located off-site.

With respect to the inventory that was located on-site and not out on rental, this inventory is exempt as "personal property held for sale by a merchant" per NRS 361.068. Each such item was available for sale to the public, and the company qualifies as a "merchant" under this statute as it routinely sells these types of property to customers. The fact that the inventory also was available for rental does not remove it from the scope of this inventory exemption.

We have excluded the inventory on-site and available for sale. Please contact us if you should have any questions or need any additional detail.

Thank you for your assistance.
